

WHAT GEN. FOCH REALLY DID SAY

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED ON THE HISTORIC DAY OF NOV-EMBER 11, 1918, FROM
FIRST HAND

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 27.—Germany's appeal for an armistice on November 7, 1918 met with the laconic reply, "I have no terms", from Marshal Foch to Erzberger and the other plenipotentiaries, according to Raymond Recouly (Captain X), French biographer of Foch and Joffre, in an article entitled "What Foch Really Said" which will be published in the May issue of Scribner's Magazine out tomorrow.

Captain Recoily, describing the historic scene of the morning of November 11, when the generalissimo of the Allied forces, attended by a few members of his staff, signed the document in a railway dining car in a forest near Re-thonde, a town between Compiègne and Soissons, declared "the sight of butter seemed to fill the German envoys with joy."

The radio from the Germans asking for "a cessation of hostilities in the name of Humanity," was received by Foch shortly after midnight on the 7th and at 1:25 a. m. on the 8th Foch sent back his answer: "The German plenipotentiaries will have to go to the outpost on the main road from Maubeuge-la-Capelle-Guise." From this point they were brought by delayed stages to Rethonde, which they reached about 7 o'clock in the morning. Two hours later they were in the presence of the commander of the conquering Allied armies.

"There was a cold salute," says Captain Recoily, "a bow in return; no presentations. The Germans took their places at the table in the dining car, where their names were written, and remained standing. The officers seemed embarrassed and upset. Not so the civilians who did not care at all. They talked familiarly together. It was impossible to believe that their country's fate was hanging in the balance, and that they were there to sign the most 'Kossolal' capitulation the world had ever seen."

Foch's piercing eyes, gruff voice and curt manner were impressive. "To whom have I the honor of speaking?" he asked. The Germans replied. "What is the object of your visit?" he asked. Then followed this dialogue:

"Erzberger: We have come to inquire into the terms of an armistice, to be concluded on land, on sea and in the air."

Count Oberndorf, the diplomatist in the German party, interceded: "If the Marshal prefers, we may say that we are here to learn the conditions on which the Allies would be willing to grant us an armistice."

"Foch: I have no terms."
Erezberger, drawing forth a greasy paper: "President Wilson has informed our government that Marshal Foch has been invested with the power of submitting the Allies' conditions to the German plenipotentiaries."

"Foch: I will let you know the Allies' conditions when you have asked for an armistice. Do you ask for an armistice?"

"Ja!" exclaimed Oberndorf and Erzberger together.

"Foch: In that case I will read you the terms drawn up by the Allied governments." He sat down and the reading began. It lasted an hour for the document had to be translated. The Germans pleaded for an immediate suspension of hostilities and for time to permit the Berlin government to examine the terms. Again Foch spoke:

"I am but the mouthpieces of the Allied governments. It is those governments that have drawn up the conditions of the armistice limiting the delay to 72 hours duration. I have therefore, no power to suspend hostilities without their authorization."

The Germans, at once dispatched a messenger to Spa, with credentials and the request that his journey to Berlin be "facilitated". when the messenger reached the German outposts, it is related the troops were so demoralized that they fired upon his white flag. Promiscuous volley his white flag. Promiscuous Volley firing continued and the emissary was unable to reach his destination until the next day. Meanwhile the German envoys had notified Foch of their difficulty and Foch agreed to permit them to send a German officer to Berlin by air. A plane was equipped ready for the flight when word was received that the messenger had reached Berlin.

Captain Recouly declares the armistice was signed because Foch and his staff were convinced German

ADA OPPOSES FRENCH WOMAN'S VIEWPOINT

Marriage in its present form is a failure.

It tries to bind twentieth century people by rules and conventions of hundreds of years ago.

Marriage is no longer any guarantee for women because divorce is obtained so easily that a woman does not feel that because she marries she is free from care.

Marriage is little more than successive polygamy.

It is a harmful practice because it prevents women from leading their own lives.

Modern society must change marriage so that woman's position remains unaffected by the presence of man.

We must evolve a new type of union in which woman is the main factor, the stable element. She must have the home, the authority, the control of the finances.

Excerpts from a dissertation on marriage by a famous woman lawyer in Paris.

If Mme. Duchanel, internationally known lawyer of France, could be in Ada today she would get a new viewpoint on the marriage question.

She has a new one, of course—and Adams say that is what is the trouble. It is too new, and highly inconceivable they declare. They took vigorous exception to some of her remarks anent the stability of marriage vows.

C. V. Dunn, minister of the Christian church, when shown the above article by Mme. Duchanel, spoke as follows to a reported for the News today:

"The above excerpts from the book of Mme. Duchanel is a plain reaction against modern domestic conditions, but it is an extreme reaction. All right thinking people deplore the loose thinking of our day concerning the marriage relation. The divorce mills are constantly grinding. If divorce continues to increase in proportion to marriage, morals will rot and society will disintegrate. But the solution is not found in the method proposed in the above article from the pen of Mme. Duchanel. Certainly woman's position can not remain unaffected by the presence of man. The preservation of society demands home life, and there can be no home life without a home keeper. This home keeper must be the woman. Neither man nor woman should be the main factor. On the basis of equality alone can there be true happiness. The authority and control of finances should be co-ordinate. Divorce should not be granted except on Scriptural terms—infidelity to the marriage bond. The Bible and Christ supreme in the home and society will solve the problem and nothing else will."

Mrs. Chas. A. Powers, one of the old fashioned women in Ada, and formerly lecturer for the Eastern Star, threw up her hands when asked for an expression regarding the statement of Mme. Duchanel. Mrs. Powers did not want to be interviewed but stated, that she thought that our marriage laws were not so bad, it was lax morals of the people. "What I think ought to be done," said Mrs. Powers, "is for women to think more before they leap. There should be more sacredness regarding the marriage ties, and if our people will get back to this there will not be so many people seeking divorces."

Mrs. Orville Snead, who is in charge of the Red Cross work in this city thinks that Madame Duchanel is striking at the basis of our social system.

"She is striking at the foundation of society," she said, "and I don't agree with her. If the marriage relation should be made less binding it would increase the evils rather than diminish them."

"The statements made by Mme. Duchanel sound silly to me," said Mrs. Snead. "Marriage is as sacred as it ever was. It all depends on the parties participating. If the man or woman want to do right, there will be no divorce evil. All this divorce scandal we have today makes me sick," Mrs. Snead added.

Mrs. Tom Hope, when asked for her views of the French woman's statements, said she had no views and did not care to be interviewed. "That French woman hasn't enough sense to come in out of the rain," Mrs. Hope said.

Flavoring Extracts Used As Beverages Now Being Banned

Investigation of conditions in states where prohibition was in force previous to the national drouth disclosed the fact that flavoring extracts were being largely used as a means of satisfying the alcoholic appetites as well as being used as ingredients in pastries.

In order to prohibit this evil, the framers of the national prohibition law wisely included in its provisions a clause designed to prevent the use of flavoring extracts for beverage purposes. Several Ada merchants who include in their stocks flavoring extracts are in receipt of certificates furnished by wholesalers which are to the effect that the flavoring extracts purchased by them are to be used solely for flavoring purposes, and will not, to the best of their knowledge and belief, be either sold or used as beverages. These certificates the merchants are required to sign and return to the wholesale firm from which they purchase the extracts.

The News Bible Lesson

Genesis 1:11-19

And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so.

And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

And the evening and the morning were the third day.

And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:

And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

And God made two great lights: the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night; he made the stars also.

And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon earth.

And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light

96,000 AUTOS IN OKLAHOMA REGISTERED

Receipts from automobile license tax in the first three months of the present year have exceeded the total receipts of last year. Henry Wood, state highway commissioner, said here yesterday.

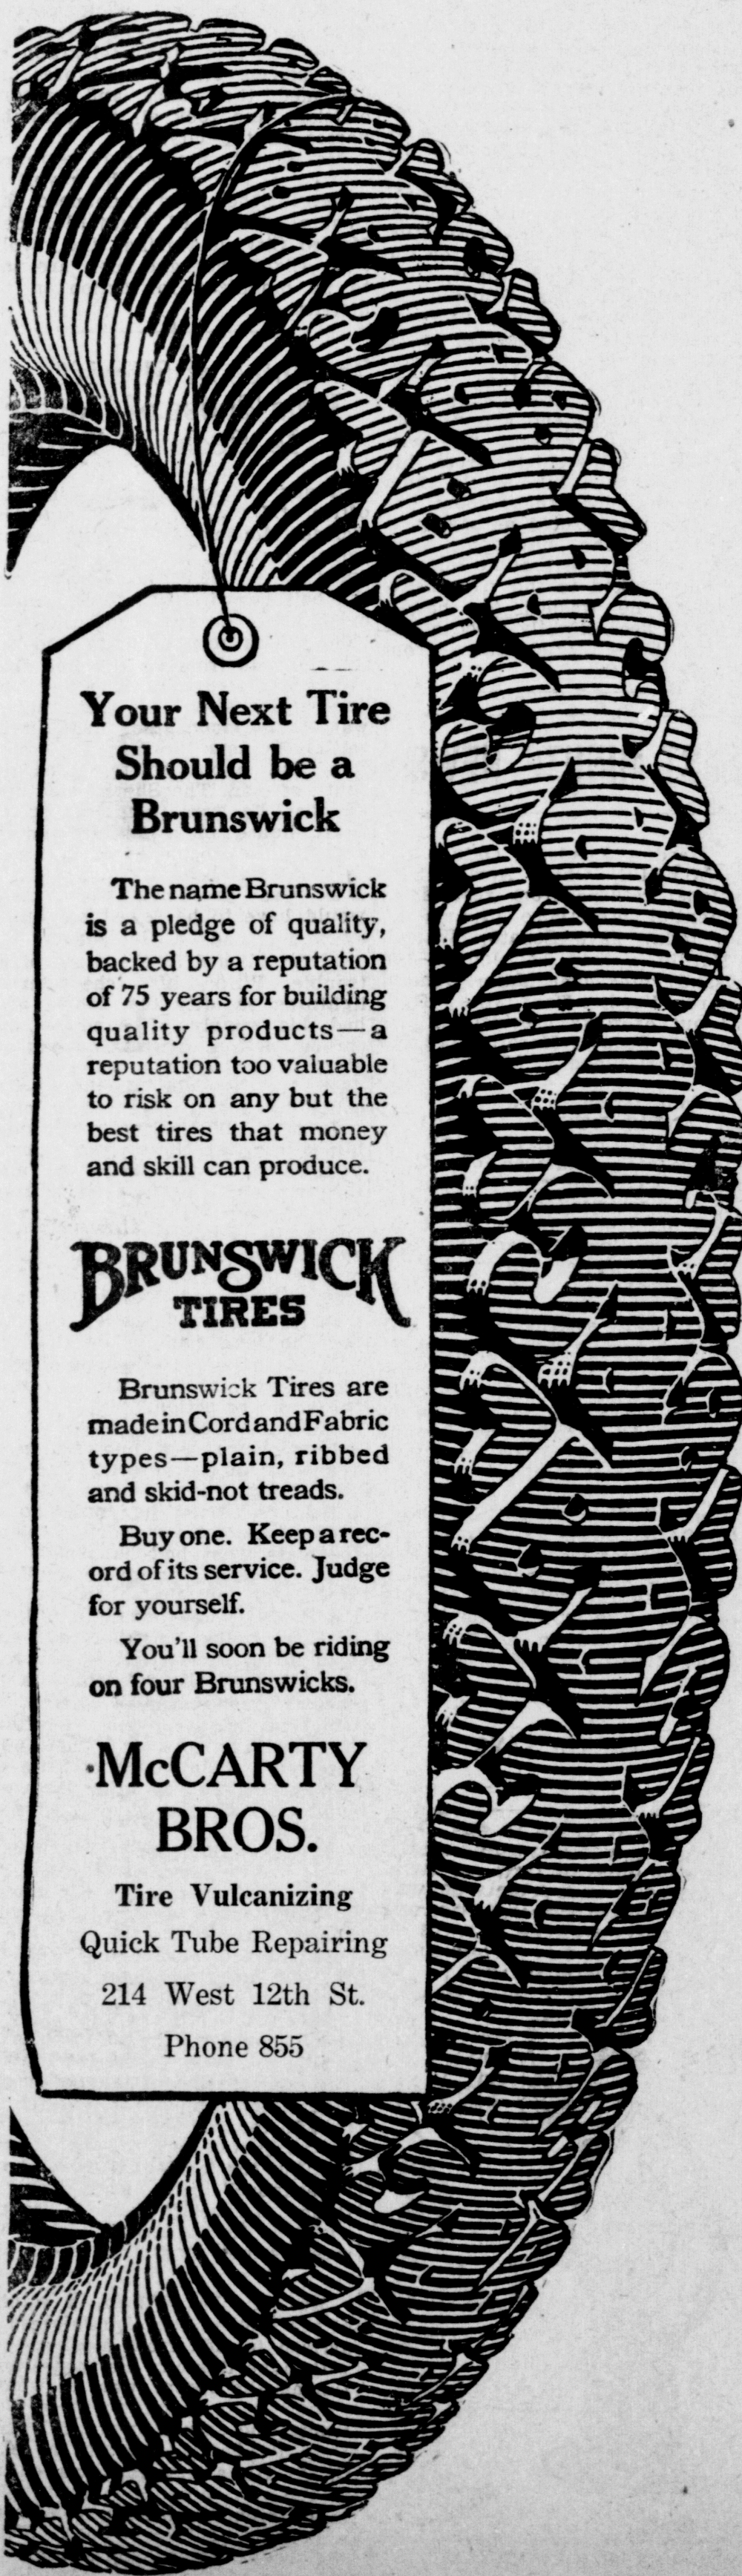

Collections so far this year have reached $1,300,000, Mr. Wood said, while total receipts last year ran to $1,208,000.

Time for filing applications for license tags has been extended to May 1 but positively will not be extended beyond that date, Mr. Wood said. About 96,000 automobiles have been registered so far this year, but Mr. Wood said there are at least 200,000 automobiles in the state.

The penitentiary work-shop is behind in the manufacture of tags at this time, but is making tags now at the rate of 10,000 a week, working night and day, and expects to catch up before many weeks. Tags cannot be forwarded to auto owners immediately on receipt of the application, but will be sent as soon as possible.

BIG STOCK FARMER NOW A WELL MAN

A. H. Emerson Says Tanlac Built Him Right Up After Having A Bad Case Of The Flu, Which Left Him In Awful Bad Shape.

"I have taken only one bottle of Tanlac, but it has done me more good than all the other medicines I have ever taken put together," said A. H. Emerson when he called at Guppy's Drug Store, Portland, Me., the other day. Mr. Emerson lives near West Scarborough, Me., where he owns and operates one of the largest stock farms in that section of the country.

After I got up from the flu last winter I was in mighty bad shape," he continued. "I was not only in a weakened, debilitated condition, but I also suffered awfully with indigestion. My stomach was so weak I could hardly digest anything and could hardly bear the sight of food, much less eat anything. As I was not able to eat any nourishing food I kept getting worse and worse and I was badly discouraged over my condition as it looked like I would never get my strength back again. My nerves were all upset and my sleep was broken and irregular. I felt tired and worn out from morning until night and could hardly drag one foot after the other.

"I took many different kinds of medicine but nothing did me a particle of good until I began taking Tanlac. As I said before, I have taken only one bottle, but it has made such a remarkable change in my condition I feel like a different person altogether. My appetite is splendid now and I can eat anything I want and as much as I want without the slightest touch of indigestion. My strength and energy have returned. I sleep sound and get up in the mornings feeling ready for a big day's work. Tanlac has put me back on my feet and everybody certainly ought to know about this medicine."

emergency quickly available" for those cities where school problems are pressing hardest for solution. The question of getting high grade teachers and school employes, he said, has become a more perplexing one than ever before. Many men and women, it is said, have stopped going to Normal schools and teachers' colleges to prepare themselves as pedagogues. In round numbers Secretary Richardson said, there will be 50 per cent fewer graduates from these schools in the United States in 1920 than in 1917.

"The United States is now actually 35,000 short of the number of teachers required to fill positions," said Mr. Richardson. "This shortage exists after about 65,000 makeshift teachers have been employed; in other words, the real shortage of trained and experienced teachers is fully 100,000. The cost of living has increased at least 80 per cent in the past six years and yet teachers have had a salary increase of less than 30 per cent since 1914. Building programs also have been held up since the war. Many communities have outgrown their school plants and overcrowded half-day sessions and the forced use of portable and temporary school buildings have been evils which cry out for remedy."

WHAT PITCHER CANNOT DO

By John B. Foster.

In the new issue of Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide, the "fan" will find exactly what the pitcher much not do under the rules as they have been amended for 1920. He must not rub the ball in the soil.

He must not discolor it with licorice, paraffin, or other foreign substance.

He must not expectorate upon it. He must not roughen the surface with sand paper, emery paper, or other hard substance. He will not even be permitted to bound it to an infielder, in order that the cover may be slightly abraded.

No other player is permitted to commit any of the above offenses and then toss the ball at the pitcher for delivery. If the pitcher delivers the ball to the batter after this is done he is arbitrarily suspended for ten days.

The correct position for the pitcher to assume when he receives the ball for delivery is to stand on the plate holding it in front of him with both hands. He cannot take either hand from the ball unless he is intending to throw it to first base or deliver it to the batter.

If he drops the ball in the act of delivering it to the batter it is a balk. This latter now makes the balk rule uniform in both major leagues. It had not been so previously.

COMMERCE CLUBS TO AID SCHOOLS

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE TO MAKE SURVEY OF CRISIS CONFRONTING NATION'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 27—A nationwide campaign to "measure service of teachers, school equipment and courses of instruction," so that every municipality may know how to deal with its public school problem, has been started, it was announced here today, by a National Committee composed of secretaries of Chambers of Commerce and superintendents of schools representing 64 American cities.

On the ground that the public schools of the United States are facing a grave crisis due to the alleged need of $2,500,000,000 to provide adequate buildings, and $200,000,000 for raising salaries to stop the increasing shortage of teachers, the National Committee says that it is enlisting the aid of Chambers of Commerce all over the country for the purpose of acquainting every citizen and tax payer with the facts.

The committee was organized last February at a meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, called by Dr. George D. Strayer of Columbia University, chairman of the Commission on Emergency in Education of the National Education Association, and the American City Bureau. Officers of the committee were elected as follows: Dr. Strayer, chairman; Herbert S. Weet, Rochester, N. Y.; Harold Davidson, Erie, Pa.; Fred A. Richardson, New York, secretary, executive committee; Henry Snyder, Jersey City, N. J.; R. G. Jones, Cleveland, Ohio; J. H. Beveridge, Omaha, Neb.; Raymond B. Gibbs, Kansas City, Kans.; S. B. Price, Bridgeport, Conn.; E. L. McColgin, Dayton, Ohio.

The conference decided that the Chambers of Commerce could render effective aid only upon the basis of a careful survey of local school conditions for the purpose of comparing them with other cities, the idea being thereafter to enlist all community forces for the development of the public school system.

The first questionnaire sent to Chambers of Commerce and superintendents of school of all cities with a population of 8,000 and more, and which will be followed by four other questionnaires makes the following inquiries: "How much training do your teachers have? How well do you pay your school employes? What special inducement do you offer the teachers in your schools?" Later questionnaires will ask, among other things: "How well do you house your school children? What is your educational program? How much does education cost your city? How will the rising costs be met?"

The American City Bureau here which, with Dr. Strayer, initiated and is carrying out the present plans, announced its desire "to make the main facts in the present

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

Money and Products

The two most important factors of this community are money and products. Each is dependent upon and could not subsist without the aid of the other.

We believe and know that the farmers of this community are the back-bone of the county. In a comparative sense, let us say that a bank is the financial heart of the community.

Closer co-operation between the banker and the farmer—the merging of these two factors of money and products will reflect itself to the lasting good of both interests and the consequent betterment of the entire community.

HIRAM, THE HUN

When Mr. Taft was in Ada a few weeks since he made the significant assertion that the Pro-German element of the country is supporting Hiram Johnson in his race for the presidency. The assertion of Mr. Taft was interesting, but hardly so interesting as what has actually occurred since the assertion was made.

Hiram Johnson is today riding the most vigorous presidential wave in America. In Michigan, Nebraska, and Montana he has administered three successive defeats to General Wood. In Illinois he received half a hundred thousand votes in an election where his supporters were forced to write his name on their ballots if they wanted to vote for him. Where is this vote coming from?

It was the Pro-German and pacifist vote that gave him his surprising victory in Michigan, says the Philadelphia Record. In Illinois he got nearly all his votes in the German sections of Chicago, "The fifth largest German city in the world," and his campaign leader was Mayor Thompson; whose Pro-German sympathies are known thro-out the U. S. In Nebraska German townships went unanimously for Johnson. He got his vote in the German sections of the state. Thus three weeks time has been sufficient to prove the assertion of Mr. Taft, if anything is necessary to prove the assertion of so conservative a man as Mr. Taft is known to be.

Thus the people of America can stand by the way and see their war traditions perish one by one. We expressed our scorn for any nation that would make a separate peace with Germany, and we see congress busy making a separate peace. We swore undying vengeance on the "made in Germany" trademark, and we see congress adopting resolutions to "establish reciprocal trade relations with Germany." We swore that we would with a whip of scorpions drive from public life any candidate who courted the favor of German voters, and we see an avowed suitor of all things German taking the lead in a presidential contest.

Up in Wisconsin a solid La Follette delegation has been elected to the Chicago Convention and La Follette will support no one but Hiram Johnson in that convention. Of all the men, good, bad and indifferent, who seek the presidency, none is pleasing to the unimpeached compatriot of Victor Berger, but the senator from California.

The brazen effrontery of the candidate from California is exhibited in his plea that he is the political heir apparent to Theodore Roosevelt. The insult is almost enough to cause the Rough Rider to rise from his grave at Oyster Bay. The bitterest enemy that Roosevelt ever possessed would not accuse him of catering to the Pro German element in order to win an official nomination. That accusation does not come from a life long enemy of the Great American. It comes from one who claims to be Roosevelt's closest political friend.

MAYBE THEY KNOW

It is a pretty bitter does for honest-to-goodness Americans when they read the following in the Pan-German Deutsche Zeitung concerning the peace resolution recently passed by the lower house of congress:

"Under the pressure of American financial circles and under the New Energetic Participation of German-Americans, the United States Senate, too, must put an end to a state of war."

But there is no use to get excited over this exhibition of Hunnish gratification. It is possible that the German journal knows more about congressmen and what is going on in congress than we do. We have ample knowledge today that Germany knew more about Washington four years ago than the American people did. They may know more today. Financial circles and energetic German-Americans may be having their own way with congress, for aught we Americans know. What kind of arguments these financial circles are using is a matter of interest, but it is something we will never know. We hate to think of an American congress controlled by American money and German spies, but the German paper may know what it is talking about.

If you want to know why taxes continue high in time of peace, ask congress. If you want to know why no effort has been made to reduce the cost of government, ask congress. If you want to know why the operation of the national government is costing eighteen million dollars a day, ask congress. If you want to know why so many purely war departments have not been decentralized ask congress. The only power that can reduce expenses, reduce taxes and reduce the number of useless government employees is congress.

Another Still Is Confiscated At the Riddling Home

Walter Goynes and Claude Chandler, high laws in this immediate section went east a few miles this morning and captured one well equipped wild cat distillery at the home of J. S. Riddling. About twenty gallons of whiskey and seventy gallons of beer was poured out and the still confiscated. It was located in a cellar at the Riddling home. Riddling himself was lodged in the county jail.

This is the second still captured at the Riddling place. About two months ago the officers found a still in his kitchen.

Frederick Leader: Silence on the part of Mary and Doug relative to the Nevada coup is the most sensible symptom they have lately displayed.

Oklahoma: It is reported that some of the congressmen plan to wear overalls. The overall movement however, is not likely to be popular among many of the congressmen because it looks too much like work.

WHAT GEN. FOCH REALLY DID SAY

was already in the throes of a revolution. The armistice envoys painted a "black picture" of conditions. While the German government was analyzing the terms the plenipotentiaries remained near Foch in the forest at Rethonde. They were permitted to leave their train and, guarded by armed soldiers exercise in the open air. On the afternoon of the 10th, Foch informed Erzberger, the head of the delegation, that hostilities would be resumed at 11 a. m. the next day. At 7 o'clock on the night of November

10 the following radio message was intercepted by the French:

"German Government to German Plenipotentiaries: The plenipotentiaries are authorized to sign the armistice. (Signed) The Chancellor of the Empire." Three ciphered figures at the end of the message proved its authenticity. More than twelve hours of deliberation and debate over the "harsh" terms followed. Foch granted some concessions and refused others. Subsequently the wearied French,

English and Germans appended their signatures to the document, and, by prearrangement, six hours after the signing, or 11 a. m. of the morning of the 11th, operations ceased along all the fronts. Four years' of warfare which had cost more than 9,000,000 lives was at an end.

Now that Coal and Sugar are "Less" Said the coalless scuttle to the sugarless bowl. "Where's this here Guvvament control?" Said the sugarless bowl to the coalless scuttle. "Why don't you ask me sumpin subtle?"—Brooklyn Eagle.

WHERE WILL THE PRICE OF SUGAR GO?

In speaking of woman we must no longer say, "She is worth her weight in gold." Instead let us say, "She is worth her weight in potatoes and sugar." For verily if the price of these staple articles continues to go up they will be more valuable than gold—nay much fine gold.

There is so much mystery about the price of sugar in Ada and throughout the country that today a reporter for the News set out to learn something of the fluctuation in the price and the sugar situation generally.

According to the papers the price of sugar in Oklahoma City today is 40 cents per pound. In Francis the price is quoted at 20 cents a pound. At two stores in Ada the price was quoted at 25 cents, another store said 27 cents and still another said they were offering it at 28 cents, with plenty of takers.

J. M. Keltner of the Keltner wholesale store, reports that he has no sugar in stock, does not know where to buy and says the price quoted to him is 27 cents with no sugar to buy. The Waples-Platter people give the same report. They say they do not have a sack of sugar in their house and did not know when they would be able to get any. The only sugar the reporter could find coming into Ada recently was several barrels from Coalgate last week, which were delivered to the retailers as soon as they arrived. This stock has been practically exhausted, the retailers say, and the chances are that unless the situation is relieved within another week the people of Ada will be paying the same high price for this staple product as is now being paid by the citizenship of the capital city of the state.

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How it May be Overcome—all Mothers Interested.

Fort Dodge, Ia.—"From the time my daughter was 13 years old until she was 16 she suffered so badly each month, that sometimes I had to call in the doctor. She had headaches, backache, and such pains, and cramps that she would have to stay in bed two or three days. She became terribly run down in health and at last a friend who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound told her about it and she has used sixteen bottles, and we always have it in the house. She feels fine now and she has no trouble at all each month. We always praise it and advise any friends who suffer to use your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. MINNIE MANDELKO, 1005 S. 18th St. & 10th Avenue, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Girls who are troubled as Miss Mandelko was, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. These letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

All members of American Legion urged to come to special meeting tonight. This not only includes those taking part in the minstrel but all others as well. Important business will come before the body.

"Live Sparks" Is a Good Play Crowded with Kerrigan Action

J. Warren Kerrigan's fourth Robert Brunton picture "Live Sparks," a W. W. Hodkinson release, which comes to the Liberty Theatre, beginning today, is a live comedy drama by the well known magazine writer, Caroline Sayre.

The part of the irresponsible young millionaire, "Neil Sparks," fits Kerrigan like a glove. Through the play Sparks is seen in one wild escapade after another. He attends an illegal prizefight and nearly escapes when police raid the scene; he nearly gets himself engaged to two girls at the same time; he goes after a couple of crooked oil promoters and subverts their scheme to rob him of rich oil lands; at his engagement party he announces to a crowd of guests that he is the father of five children—in fact, he does everything and anything to squeeze a thrill out of life.

The play is replete with excitement and spectacular effects. In one scene a $75,000 oil well is sent up in smoke; in another over a thousand oil workers and deputy sheriffs engage in a thrilling melee.

Kerrigan is supported by a strong cast, including Fritz Brunette, Arthur Milette, Joseph J. Dowling and Zelma Maja.

First Baptist Prayer Meeting.

We have been having splendid attendance at the prayer meeting services, but there are a few vacant seats that we would like very much to see filled. These services are very much enjoyed by those attending and we hope to see a larger number present.

We believe that the prayer meeting service fills a distinct place in the life of the church as well as in the lives of the members, and that those who fail to avail themselves of these services are missing something that would make for the deepening of the spiritual life.

The service tonight will begin at eight o'clock and we urge all who can possibly do so to attend.—Clyde Calhoun Morris, Pastor.

James R. Knight, who lives in McCurtain county and visits Ada occasionally, dropped into the Evening News office this morning to get the current news. He was very much exercised over the report that local officers had just brought in two wild cat distilleries. Being from McCurtain, where the mountains turn toward the skies and the corn turns to mountain dew, he is firmly convinced that no half-hill, half-prairie county like Pontotoc has any right to infringe on the inalienable rights of old McCurtain. He heartily endorses the activity of local officers in rounding up the local booze mixers and threatens to apply for an injunction restraining the operation of illicit distilleries anywhere except McCurtain county.

Tom Mix, the Famous Fox Star Outrides Old Put at the American

One modern hero of motion picture fame has made old Israel Putnam, the Revolutionary hero, look much like an amateur when it comes to feats of daring horsemanship, despite the feat that "Old Put's" brave dash down the front of a cliff to escape the British makes him dear to the heart of every schoolboy.

Without disparaging General Putnam, Tom Mix, the William Fox star, has put into a few short hours more daring rides than that old Revolutionary hero ever dreamed of. In "Rough Riding Romance," to be shown at the American Theatre Thursday and Friday, Mix rides up six flights of a fire escape and then later four times up and down the double stairway of a palace—besides a hazardous race on his trained horse Tony alongside a flying express train that is a history maker in picture stunts. He boards the train on a fly, by tossing his lasso over a car ventilator, then leaving the saddle and climbing the rope with the ease of a boy tackling an apple tree.

The stunts Mix does in "Rough Riding Romance" are real, be it remembered. He doesn't fake them. He doesn't believe in faking despite the danger he faces constantly; and he never employs a double to assume a risk for him. Thus he has won the reputation of being "the man who never fakes."

How to Save Five Cents and lose twelve

During the time of high prices, it's natural to turn toward anything that looks cheap. But cheapness does not mean economy. Take a dairyman's business, for instance.

Suppose PURINA COW CHOW is $10 a ton higher than some other feed.

That's 50c a bag or 1-2 cent a pound. A cow eats 8 to 10 pounds of grain feed a day. That means it cost you 4 or 5 cents less every day you feed your cow on the "cheaper" (?) feed.

Suppose the cow falls off one quart at a milking. These two quarts a day that you don't get would bring 12 to 15 cents wholesale, today. Maybe more next winter.

Saving 5c to lose 12c is bad business, but paying that extra 5c to feed COW CHOW and getting 12c back for it is mighty good business.

Those who have fed COW CHOW know that it usually makes an extra quart for each feed at a milking.

We have just received a car of the celebrated PURINA products, COW CHOW, PIG CHOW, CHICKEN CHOWDER and BABY CHICK Feed that makes them get up and grow.

Bombardier Wells, veteran English pugilist, is still a popular and busy fighter. The picture above, a remarkable one, shows one of Wells' recent victories—the knocking out of Paul Journee of France. Wells landed the final wallop in the thirteenth round. The Britisher had sent Journee to the mat for counts of six, nine, eight and seven in previous rounds. The bout was staged in Albert Hall, London. Well's most recent feat was the knocking out of Eddie McGorty, American fighter, in the sixteenth round.

OWEN ATTACKS COAL BARONS

SAYS OPERATORS HAVE ASKED $2 RAISE TO COVER 27-CENT PAY BOOST. QUOTES RE-PORTS OF COMMISSION

By ROBERT L. OWEN

U. S. Senator from Oklahoma; Author of Federal Reserve Banking Act; President National Popular Government League

I fear the average citizen does not realize sharply enough the close connection between his vote and his pocketbook. Big business understands this perfectly, that is why it spends millions on campaign funds, maintains expensive lobbies at Washington, watches appointments to important offices, and is in politics 365 days in the year. The average citizen, disgusted with "politics" need not despair of release from his unjust burdens if he will forsake blind partisanship and take a little intelligent interest in his government.

Take the coal situation as an example.

The nation gasped a few days ago when a $2 increase in the price of coal was announced, the excuse given being the 27 percent increase granted the labor by the president's coal commission.

Now comes the Federal Trade Commission and gives the country the plain facts which prove that this increase averages only 45 cents per ton advance to the miners, and that 23 cents of this was granted by the Garfield award at the time of the strike last November!

Two dollars is demanded to cover a wage advance of 45 cents!

Profits Are Revealed.

Do the coal operators need this money to care for their families or enable them to make a fair profit and thus continue in business? For answer, let us turn again to "Senate Document 259"—the treasury report giving corporation income and excess tax returns for 1917, from which I have before quoted in these articles. At page 372 of this famous report are listed 34 bituminous coal companies of the Appalachian region, which had a total capital stock of $99,577,103. of which in 1917 made a total net profit of $26,261,667 after all taxes had been paid.

Twenty-three of these companies cleared net profits on capital stock, after paying taxes, of all the way from 100 per cent to 3,955 per cent. Six Pennsylvania anthracite companies cleaned up $1,081,550 profits, beyond all taxes, on a capital stock of $1,150,000.

Impossible of belief as it may seem that men would take such advantage of our people with the nation at war, the government figures are there. And remember these profits were made in some cases on watered capital!

To great extent this explains why the average American family man had to pay this last winter $8.81 per ton for his soft coal as against $5.43 in 1913, and for hard stove coal $12.59, as against $7.73 for the same period. The bureau of labor statistics furnishes us with these figures, and they are conservative.

Can't Blame Labor.

No fair man who knows the truth can lay this enormous sudden increase at the door of labor, organized or unorganized. My space is short, I cannot fill this article with unending statistics, but reports of the Federal Trade Commission prove that between 1916 and 1918 the increase granted operators and dealers on their coal prices was proportionately four times that granted to labor.

There is a question of humanity, health and national well being involved here.

All experts agree that no worker can maintain himself, wife and a family of three children in ordinary health and comfort on an income of less than $2200 per year at the present time, and that $1600 is necessary to escape the mere poverty line.

From reliable data it is clear that the best paid coal miners during the war period were making $1400 per year the poorer paid down to $900; and further, that even with the recent award the average yearly earnings may be expected to reach around $1200 or $1300 per year, with a maximum of $1600 or $1700, just at the poverty line.

Facts like the above, which might be multiplied indefinitely all to the same conclusion, are necessary if we are to arrive at just judgments and take wise action which will neither be precipitous and destructive nor delay beyond the point when the public patience is exhausted.

If the people will not realize the great value of public servants who are turning the light into the dark corners of commercial greed for profiteering, the special interests do.

The Coal Operator's Association itself has brought a suit in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to enjoin the Federal Trade Commission from securing monthly data as to their costs reports.

Board Faces Crisis

The case is before Judge Bailey. If the operators win, the usefulness of the trade commission is at an end, because it will be shorn of its power to go behind business camouflage and get at the real facts which the people must know.

It is a business proposition with the operators. A single letter to the anthracite operators from the commission on March 12, 1917, saved the coal consumers of the nation some $7,000,000.

At that time the hard coal operators were planning not to give the usual spring discount on anthracite, claiming increased costs of production on account of war conditions. The commission promptly informed the operators that "the cost data already compiled are conclusive against further price increases this spring."

More publicity was enough. The discounts were granted, and the operators —did not get the gouge of from $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 which they had expected.

It is good business for coal operators and other combines to take an interest in politics and government, without distinction of party politics, then it is equally good business for the people to interest themselves like-wise.

What is "Spring Fever?"

It is simply low Vitality, a lack of Energy caused by impure blood. GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC restores Vitality and Energy by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. You can soon feel its Strengthening, Invigorating effect. 60c. adv

There is a Waste Basket in every Man's mind

And into it pours the things he doesn't believe.

For example; we know a certain Mr. Perkins, who because of his exceptional build, really does require made-to-measure clothing.

When Perkins reads a ready to wear advertisement, "we can fit you" he scowls, pulls over the basket and BANG.

We don't blame him! Most men DO NOT need a tailor's attention—but that is no excuse for fibbing to the man who does.

We say this; our Michaels-Stern ready-to-wear clothing will fit 98% of America's voters, but if you are in the 2% class—why then, we'll have to get along with selling you your hats and furnishing goods.
